This warrant is administered in the Ministry of Defence.*

Explanatory note

This note is not part of the warrant, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

The Royal Warrant establishes “The New Zealand Meritorious Service Medal”.

The Medal (which is of the design traditionally awarded for meritorious service in the New Zealand Army) is specific to New Zealand. It is to be awarded for meritorious service to non-commissioned officers of the substantive rank of Petty Officer or Sergeant and above of the Royal New Zealand Navy, the Regular Force of the New Zealand Army, and the Regular Air Force of the Royal New Zealand Air Force.

The medal that has been traditionally awarded for meritorious service has been awarded only to non-commissioned officers of the rank of Sergeant and above of the Regular Force of the New Zealand Army. That medal was instituted under the auspices of a British Royal Warrant, dated 31 May 1895, which made provision for the award of medals for meritorious service to members of the Colonial Forces under such regulations as might from time to time be recommended by the Governors of the Colonies and approved by the Secretary of State for War.
